strong Evidence Secured by the Chicago Police Against Burke.

The Prisoner's Suspicious Behavior Before His Arrest at Winnipeg.

Prospects of a Bitter Fight Over the Extra-dition—Canadian Officials Confident That Burke Is the Man Wanted—Every Clew to His Identity Destroyed by the Prisoner—The Western Union Telegraph Co. Ordered to Produce Telegrams Sent and Received by All the Suspects—The Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.—Chief of Police Hubbard, in speaking of the arrest of Martin Burke in Winnipeg for complicity in the Cronin murder, this morning said: "We have a good deal more evidence against Burke than has been published. The identification of the photograph is not nearly all. I will say that Burke was frequently heard to say that Dr. Cronin ought to be removed. There is not a shadow of a doubt in my mind that Martin Burke helped to kill Cronin, but whether the Winnipeg man is the one cannot be stated positively, but there is not much doubt about it."

The police do not say where this information comes from, but it is stated that a friend of Burke has "squealed," and will account to the officer with the requisition to Win-

GRAND-JURY PROCEEDINGS. A trial incident of the Cronin case this morning was the refusal of the Western Union Telegraph to produce an order of the State of Illinois requiring the company to produce the contents of its files concerning the matter.

Charles H. Holt, attorney for the Western Union, appeared before the grand jury and stated that while he could not desire in every way to meet the ends of justice, he did not desire to voluntarily violate the statutes of the State and disclose the message of his patron or under the mere quest of a grand-jury.

If the court thought fit to issue an order directing the wires, under pain of contempt, to produce the messages, he would then consider this a bar to any possible civil prosecution by patrons and the witness, who should more explicitly describe the message wanted, their present request being more in the nature of a writ of habeas corpus.

JUDGE SHEPARD'S ORDER. State's Attorney Longenecker held that the jury could not definitely describe any particular wire or wires sent between the two men, and therefore could not be compelled to divulge with the contents of the messages sent. What the jury desired was the right to examine any and all messages that might have passed between the two men, the suspected parties since March 1.

The jury also could be the judge of the relevance of the messages. Mr. Holt, however, stated that what to an order of such sweeping nature, but the judge fully sustained the State's Attorney, and an order was given to the record director to wire under pain of contempt an order committing to jail to produce any and all messages, cablesgrams, or wires of all the parties concerned between Alexander Sullivan, Dan Crowley, P. O'Sullivan, John J. Maroney, G. W. McLean and Charles H. Holt under their true names or any other names between these men or any other persons, since the 1st of March last. The officers of the Western Union stated that five men had been employed two days searching among the record for originals of the messages desired, and that they would now promptly proceed to do so.

This following marriage license was issued to-day: John Murphy, Prairie City, Iowa, and Julia West, of Belleville, and Eugenie Troye, St. Louis, and Miss Johanna Crowley of St. Louis.

One of the instruments delivered to-day by Recorder Litt was a deposit for lots 24 and 25, situated in East St. Louis, in the first sub-division and was probably the largest contribution made here for the lot. The lots contain the Heim Brewery and the price was stated to be $100,000.

Maurice Morris, a friend of Dr. Cronin, was before the jury this morning and told how the doctor had frequently stated that he had no authority in the Irish society, and that he had fears of his life. Wm. Mulcahy, the suspect, about whom much has been written, was closely questioned for nearly an hour, and those who heard his story became convinced that he had no connection with the killing. The defense, however, had gone to work for O'Sullivan until several days after the date of the murder, and from his words it appears he knew to know much about O'Sullivan or his wife.

He was asked particularly about the movements of O'Sullivan during the days following the killing, and he stated that he was suspicious, and that O'Sullivan seemed to be devoting more time to the ice business than to any outside affair. He stated that he had seen O'Sullivan and Coughlin together during these times, but he might possibly be mistaken, as he had not been acquainted with Coughlin. Altogether Mr. Mulcahy was a very unprofitable witness, and the jury obtained no information of consequence from his hour's examination.

Burke, the Winnipinger Prisoner.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, June 18.—The police authorities here believe that Martin Burke, alias Delaney, who is under arrest on suspicion of having been implicated in the Cronin murder, is a man sought by the police. Burke came in the Northern Pacific Railway Saturday afternoon and put up at the Hotel Royal. His actions at the hotel excited the curiosity of the public, who were nervous and agitated. In the evening at the Canadian Pacific station he acted like a burglar, and when he reached the station until the cars were opened and then at once rushing into one and taking his seat in a corner, he failed to pay his fare. His description matches, even to the features, on his face, with that of the man wanted, but witnesses to identity were not able to be found. The charge that he had taken the ticket and had made out in the name of W. J. Cooper. He had a valise containing only one change of clothes, and his bill of lading was a day laborer of Chicago who is desirous of going home to Ireland. Burke is nervous and appears to be ill. He is confined. When Chief Michel went in to get a definite answer as to whether or not he would be extradited, he covered his face with a napkin and answered in monosyllables. He, however, left no doubt in the chief's mind of his intention to fight extradition.

Sure He Is the Man.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 18.—The Journal's special says: The police are sure that Burke is the man. He admits having been in Chicago at the time of the Cronin murder, but denies any complicity therewith. He is now being held on a charge to determine the name in the cap Burke wore when arrested. It begins "O. Bur—," and the remainder is blotted out.

Lawyer Trade's Trip.

DETROIT, Mich., June 18.—Lawyer A. S. Alexander Sullivan's attorney, arrived here Saturday noon, but has since gone to Hancock and the copper district. He was attracted by the popularity of the hills and ditches and both endeavored to attract as little attention as possible, and did not register any name. His Fox Cities vacation school is also in the copper district, having gone there a week ago. The supposition is that they are looking for a quiet place to go to and are staying in Marion in the Cronin case. Detectives are numerous here, but if anything throwing light on the Cronin murder has yet been found in laboratory, it is being kept very quiet.

A BRIDE OF TEN DAYS.

MARRIAGE AND SURPICIOUS DEATH OF LOUISE WILSON, THE BLIND MEDIUM.

She Becomes the Wife of Leon Isaac S. Lee, a Worthless Adventurer, and in Ten Days Dies Under Circumstances That Lead to the Belief That She Was Poisoned.

SAD STORY is related of the death of the "Little Blind Medium," Louise Wilson, only a few days after her marriage to Leon Isaac S. Lee, whose treatment of her is now the chief sorrow of the family she leaves behind her. Mrs. Elizabeth Stringer was the mother of Miss Wilson, a daughter by a former marriage, and they lived at 1515 Morgan street, where Miss Wilson conducted her spiritualistic seances. She was born blind, but was given an education by the means of her having deviated for instructing those who cannot see, and she developed a fondness for spiritualistic studies, which led her to a belief that spiritualism was the true philosophy. She manifested powers as a medium and they were cultivated to the highest point. She became quite famous as a medium and fortune-teller and earned a good living for herself and her mother and

ACCUMULATED SOME MONEY.

She often went to the Spiritualist's Hall, on Ninth street and Franklin avenue, and there met Lee, who was an adventurer and rather a worthless character. He was a carefree, slovenly fellow, but his appearance was no bar in the way of winning the blind girl's affections. He escorted her home from the meetings and visited the house to give her lessons in spiritualism and after them were engaged.

Lee was trying to earn a living as a spiritualist and occultist, and his cards bore this bold declaration:

"Familiar with all the philosophies and sciences, grounded and rooted in bed-rock granite, explorer in all domains of Nature, in Orient and Occident, Truth Seeker of March 20, 1888."

He endeavored to organize a society of Spiritualists, of which he was to be the salaried President, but the scheme failed and he went to work on the Chronicle. When the New Order became a daily he found a position on its staff and remained with it until it ceased publication. Then Lee urged that his marriage to Miss Wilson should be solemnized.

MRS. STRINGER SAID:

"I opposed the marriage—we all did—but Louise thought he was such a nice man; that she could trust him and I was afraid that as I was getting old I might die and then she would have no one to look after her. She wanted a husband who could see and she was willing to marry him, so I gave my consent. Then we went to the minister, Mr. H. H. to be married. He said that he had so many newspaper friends that if he was married he would be a laughing stock. The bailiffs right away told him he had to go away and leave her, but she grew worse and Saturday she died. After she had been dead only two days Lee came to me and said, 'I must get to bury her right away, and we took her over to Columbia, Ill., where her father is buried, and buried her there. When we came home I told Mr. H. H. that we had to wait three weeks, and he took $70 in money and a gold watch she had and went away with it. Why, when Louise died he was so sick that he didn't even go into the next room and searched her clothes to see if there was any money in them. He came back afterwards and said he was going to give her a decent burial, but I told him he had no right to do it because he could not have anything. He made some arrangements and put into it all the medicines she had been taking and the cup and glasses she had used. He took the train away, but I don't know what he has done with the money."

HE LOOKED SUSPICIOUS,

her dying so soon after she married him, and his carelessness about his wife and son, and some of his friends want me to have Louise's body taken up so that we can find out what she died of. I don't know whether to do it or not.

Mr. H. H. had a letter from Lee, and he says it may not prove anything if we do take it up, but I heard something this morning that makes me think he is guilty. He told me that he had been married before, but that his mother-in-law has taken his wife away from him. He did not say that he had been married before, but I told him he needed to do it because he could not have anything. He made some arrangements and put into it all the medicines she had been taking and the cup and glasses she had used. He took the train away, but I don't know what he has done with the money."

Lee is moving to-day from 1519 Morgan street to 2310 on the same street. Lee lived in a small cottage at the foot of Washington, on Fourth and Locust streets, but since May 29 he has not been seen about there. He is well known among the shiftless characters about town, and if the reports are true he violated two of the laws of the land are true no one will be surprised.

Wilkie Collins has written a new serial story, entitled "Blind Love," which will begin June 30 in the SUN-DAY POST-DISPATCH.

In the Civil Court.

Judge Dillon in the few moments he was on the bench this morning decided the injunction proceedings and suit for damages of Joseph Herit against Ole Petersen, which case had been tried by a jury before. Herit lives with his family at 1509 Franklin avenue, Third street, and Petersen keeps a stable in the rear. Herit claimed he had been beaten by Petersen, and he was forced to flee to plaintiff's property and also placed a pile of manure ten feet high against plaintiff's rear wall. He claimed to be damaged in the amount of $100, and the court showed how and judgment was entered for defendant.

Andrew Kottke in his will died yesterday giving each of his six children $10 each. He gives $100 each to the St. Vincent of Assumption and to Father Henry Groll of S. S. Peter and Paul. The balance of his soul. The balance of his estate is left to the widow.

If you formerly paid $30 to $50 for a suit made to order come and see the Baltimore merchant tailor suits from $12.50 to $25. They beat anything you have ever seen.

THE GARDEN ATTRACTIONS.

"Ermine" Handsomely Given at Urig's Bright Entertainment at the Kensington.

The production of "Ermine" at the Cave last night was one of the most enjoyable operatic entertainments that has been offered here for many a day and it was heard by a large audience in spite of the threatening weather. During the early part of the evening a drizzling rain was falling, but the sides of the canvas auditorium were down and the place was as cozy and comfortable as any room. The number of visitors that overflowed the place was a surprise to those who expect much at the Cave. It is complicated by the dim light of the stage, but even the accessories of a theater stage are available, but even without these, the arrangement of the scenes and tableaux was admirable. The chorus was excellent, the orchestra exceptionally good and received repeated encores; in fact, encores were the order of the evening. The audience enjoyed the performances without a flickering recognition of the entire company, even was recalled after the curtain fell. The audience was a chorus. John Bell and Ferris Hartman, who took the parts of Ravencroft and Cadeaux, or very well indeed and they kept the audience laughing continually. Jay C. Taylor sang very pleasant and did justice to the part of Laramore. James Clegg recited two poems. The chorus was well balanced and sang unusually well, and the costumes were gorgeous. The entire company and management have put up a covering which will protect the audience from the inclement weather the attendance is always good.

ITH the increased facility for reaching Forest Park and its rapidly growing popularity as a resort it has become necessary to seriously consider the many possible improvements which are desired and the manner in which the most can be done with the funds available for the purpose.

In the general appropriation bill which will go to the Municipal Assembly this evening for passage, the city will spend $10,000 for Forest Roads.

The roads, $5,000; water pipe, $2,000; shelter on picnic grounds, $1,500; total, $28,500.

Every cent will be used this year and as much more as the Park Commissioner can get by ordinance every now and then when a new road or new bridge is badly needed.

Park Commissioner Richard Klemm realizes that during the coming year the park will be by far the most popular resort and will be visited by three or four times as many people as ever visited it before in one season. Heretofore the park has been more of a driving park than anything else; now it has been taken possession of by the pedestrians and pleasure-seekers who cannot afford vehicles and now go to the cars.

The $30,000 for roads will be used upon all roads. The ballads and comic songs all possess voices which are excellent and unique in themselves. The musical feature of the entertainment is all that could be desired. The ballads in the first part were sung by Maxwell, Harrington, and Woods, and the second by Hart and Dutton. Kings and Collins are the end men and Hart the introducer. The jokes are new, and aside from the excellent singing, the entertainment is a departure from the old time rule of minstrels that they keep the audience in a state of nervous suspense.

Persons receiving the POST-DISPATCH by carrier will confer a favor by re-sending to this office any delay, irregularity, or error in the delivery of the paper.

The indications for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a.m. to-day, for Missouri are: Light rain; slightly cooler; variable winds.

An office with emoluments ranging from $10,000 to $15,000 a year is a handsome fee to pay even for a vice-president.

THERE does not seem to be any essential difference of opinion between the law-makers and the law-breakers in Missouri.

The declaration that no jury can be found to convict a gambler is an insult to the people of Missouri. We are confident that it will be resented when the time comes.

HERE is nothing in the way of the Union Market improvement except the consent of the Municipal Assembly. That should be out of the way by to-morrow morning.

WITH gamblers operating in defiance of the law, and politicians committing naturalization frauds without punishment, the laws of Missouri are in danger of failing into utter contempt.

TAKING back false statements with regard to the Cronin murder and taking back money given to charity seem to be the chief occupations of the Chicago press, police and people at present.

ANOTHER man has been arrested for complicity in the Cronin murder, but two men under arrest have been released. At the rate of two releases for one arrest the Chicago police will soon be hard pressed for "suspects."

THE condition of Chicago politics under the domination of the gamblers is an awful example enough for the people of St. Louis, even if they had not had terrible experience of its evils in their own city. The gamblers must go.

FOR the traveling expenses of the committee who carried Chicago's contribution for the Johnstown sufferers to Pittsburgh and back again to Chicago should be defrayed out of the general relief fund Chicago would be genuinely happy.

DELEGATE LEHMANN was acquitted on a technical lack of evidence as to the exact nature of his sworn statement in court, and not on a proof of his innocence of naturalization frauds. This manner of acquittal merely saves Mr. LEHMANN from punishment, but does not disprove the charges made against him.

THE information that the United States Commissioners did not get all they wanted at the Samoa Conference should be welcome news to the friends of Prince Bismarck, who had reason to fear that the German Chancellor had "lost his grip," till the United States have got as much reasonably could be expected.

MISSOURI office-seekers naturally fail to be the advantage of holding the promise of "something equally as good," while other fellows are holding the offices and drawing the pay. Under the pernicious habit of the Administration of substituting promises for offices, we fear that Missouri will not be "equally as good" as a republican State at the next election.

THE boast of the gamblers that a jury cannot be found in the State of Missouri to send a man to the penitentiary for gambling is disproved by history. R. C. PATRICK pleaded guilty and two others were convicted of gambling under the present law and Prince with the Kearsarge. It is to be hoped, however, that his success in the Samoan difficulty will not tempt Mr. BLAINE to do more than protect American citizens and interests in Hayti.

BOODLE DEMOCRACY.

It is idle to expect rigid fidelity to minor public trusts or even common decency in the discharge of them when the opposite fashion is set in the higher walks of politics and official life. The petty official, the alderman and the ward committeeman cannot be required to set the standard of honest public service higher than cabinet officers, governors and national committeemen. When these openly use their positions and work their "pulls" to pay personal debts or promote personal ends, and such work is tolerated in high places by public opinion, there is nothing to deter the small fry from yielding to smaller temptations.

There was a time when Missouri's member of the National Democratic Committee was supposed to seek and hold the position for the honor of representing so grand a Democratic State in the high council of the party. The idea of using it as a pull for revenue only—as a pull on the appointing power to provide an incompetent son-in-law with an assistant district attorneyship—as a pull on an ambitious and scheming Governor to provide the National Committeeman himself with a lucrative sinecure the emoluments of which are a gross fraud upon tax-payers and upon the public Treasury—is an innovation so recent, a defiance of decency so startling, as to challenge general comment.

The defeat of the bill requiring the Coal Oil Inspector to turn over some $10,000 or $15,000 of fees to the State was an outrage as daring as any State administration or any party majority in a Legislature was ever guilty of. The infamous bargain for which that outrage was committed is openly consummated when the committee returns from a national committee meeting at which he has assumed to pledge Missouri's vote in convention in return for a vice-presidential nomination for the Governor, and immediately receives the coal oil inspectorship from the Governor for such personal service.

The stomach of Missouri Democracy must have lost its tone and all relish for decency if it is not disgusted with this rank manifestation of boodle politics in the very highest places of the party organization.

INTERSTATE EXTRADITION.

The Federal Constitution imposes on each State the duty of surrendering fugitives from justice on proper requisition from other States. All State courts and officers are sworn to obey that Constitution and the laws passed in pursuance of its provisions. But Congress has left the enforcement of interstate extradition provisions almost entirely to State legislation.

The law of Congress provides only for the authentication of the requisition, and that it shall be accompanied by an authenticated copy of the indictment or an affidavit made before a magistrate charging the person demanded with "treason, felony or other crime." But the word "crime" as here used has always been construed as referring only to serious crimes, and while all the statutes, State and Federal, regulating the extradition process, have left much to the discretion of the Governor, he has nothing to fear but public criticism and censure if he fails to do his duty.

Governors, however, have rarely, if ever, abused this discretion, and have used it only to prevent abuses of the extradition process. Where they have refused to honor a requisition they have generally been able to justify the refusal as promotional rather than subversive of public justice, and in harmony with the intent and purpose of the constitutional provision.

Wilkie Collins Has written a new serial story, entitled "Blind Love," which will begin June 30 in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

was sentenced to the penitentiary. Only the scandalous conduct of a Governor who granted him an immediate pardon saved him from donning a striped suit and serving out his sentence. What has been done can be done again.

THE joy of the gamblers over the prospect of looting St. Louis will be brief. If the present gambling law, which was framed and passed in accordance with an overwhelming sentiment of the people and as a crowning act of victory over an outrageous gamblers' ring, is not sufficient to prevent gambling a more stringent and comprehensive law will be passed. The people of this State will not tolerate a revival of the corruption and scandal of the gambling clique.

BOSTON IS IN A PARADOX OF SELF-GRATULATION OVER THE DEDICATION OF THIRTY ACRES OF FRANKLIN PARK AS A "PLAYSTEAD" FOR HER CHILDREN.

The World presents a cartoon this morning representing Col. Calvin S. Brier enthroned on a platform labeled "Democratic Doctrine: Anti-Monopoly, Anti-Plutocracy, Anti-Trusted, Anti-War Tariff, Anti-Boodie." This inquiry is under the picture: "Is Plutocracy the Brice of Wall Street the Proper Leader for Jeffersonian Democracy in a Fight against the Money Power?" Bless us all, no! But Jeffersonian Democracy is not in a fight with the money power and does not intend to be. Jeffersonian Democracy has had a taste of private palace cars, terpsichore, canvas-back and champagne and is smitten by them. Jeffersonian Democracy has had its pockets filled in campaign time and is delighted thereby. Jeffersonian Democracy will stick to the money power as long as the supply of boodle holds out. Hence the appropriateness of Col. Brier's election.

Three weeks ago partisan Democrats suggested that the best results could not be expected from a trial in which a Republican District Attorney, aided by two Republican Assistant District Attorneys, and a force of special agents headed by Henry W. Ehler, an experienced office-holder with Republican assistants in his employ, prosecuting prominent Republican politicians, who were defended by a prominent Republican lawyer, and who were charged with political offenses committed in the interest of Republican candidates at the November election. To these demands that in the interest of fairness a Democratic prosecutor be appointed, District Attorney Reynolds said he would not ask for the appointment of a censor over his official acts, and Special Agent Ehler, against whose selection very pointed criticisms were directed, asked that the public's until the results of the investigation and the trials could be made public.

That time has come.

Three weeks were consumed in "investigating" the naturalization frauds and on June 10 the Federal Grand-jury met. On that day Judge Thayer, in sustaining the indictment against Lehmann, set at rest all doubts about the form of indictments. Nine days have elapsed and not one new indictment has been returned to court. The "investigation" has, so far, had no results, and as yet Special Agent Ehler and his assistants have done nothing to win approval for their appointments, or establish public confidence in their efficiency. On yesterday the first of the naturalization fraud cases was called for trial in the United States District Court. The came up out of the proceedings of that important trial can do nothing but bring him to trial.

SUBURBAN HANDICAP.

INTEREST MANIFESTED HERE IN THE BIG RACE RUN TO-DAY.

A New York Review of the Horses Before the Race—Betting in the St. Louis Pool-Rooms—Terra Cotta Strongly Backed—Raceland the Only Other Horse in Favor—The Other Races.

UCH interest in a race has not been displayed here for years as that taken in the Suburban Handicap which was run at Sheephead Bay this afternoon. scarcely anything else was spoken of in the pool-rooms and on the streets, and so completely did it overshadow what took in the local races, that for the time being all thoughts of them were laid aside. In the pool-rooms the only business that could be done was on the Suburban, no attempt being made to sell in the local races. Betting pools were sold last night on the race at Terra Cotta, Badge, Raceland, $20; Terra Cotta, $20; Badge, $10; Gorgo, $15; Taragon, Elkwood, Bella B., Eurus and Carroll $1 each, Connemara, $10. This morning word was received that Connemara and Barrister had been scratched. Terra Cotta, being well known here, was heavily backed to win. In fact he and Raceland were the only two who were much thought of. Terra Cotta was second choice in all the books, and Badge third choice, but there was little money put up on him. Terra Cotta was not played off in any of the other books. There was a little backing of Eurus and Elkwood and a number of people played a tip received from New York on the latter. Terra Cotta was the only inquiry after Inspector B., but as he was marked doubtful and was entered in another race people held off him. Terra Cotta agreed that it was a very hard race to call.

BOOK ODDS.
At Donovan's the book odds were as follows:

Terra Cotta 3 to 1 straight and even money for place; Raceland 2 to 1 straight, 4 to 5 place; Badge 2 to 1 straight, 3 to 5 place; Inspector B. 6 to 1 straight, 3 to 1 place; Elkwood 10 to 1 straight, 6 to 1 place; Terra Cotta, 5 to 1 against Badge, 8 to 1 against Bella B., 15 to 1 against Eurus, 20 to 1 against Gorgo, 20 to 1 against Inspector B., 20 to 1 against Brian B., and 50 to 1 against Volunter.

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD.

Bodies Uncovered and Devoured by Dogs—Quarrel Among Workers.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 18.—Already the morning four bodies have been blown up in the wreckage above the railroad bridge. They are all horribly decomposed and cannot be identified. The blasting is still going on and the work seems to be suspended.

The piles are opened in three wards of Johnstown proper and constructional probabilities are being determined.

The betting at the Sheephead Bay track before the Suburban was 8 to 5 against Raceland, 2 to 1 against Terra Cotta, 5 to 1 against Badge, 8 to 1 against Inspector B., 6 to 1 against Eurus, 20 to 1 against Gorgo, 20 to 1 against Inspector B., 20 to 1 against Brian B., and 50 to 1 against Volunter.

TO CONDEMN A NIGHT OF WAY.

S. Noland, Frank Carroll, and Charles H. T. McLaughlin, commissioners for the condemnation of property for a right of way for the Forest Park Branch of the National Railroad, have overruled the claim of Grogan, who owns the fourteen-acre tract facing the east line of Union avenue immediately north of the Delmar and adjoining the Forest Park addition, better known as Westmoreland place, on the forty tract near the northeast corner and describes nearly a half circle, enclosing the southwest corner and passing into the tunnel now under construction of Union avenue.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS.

The South End Building & Loan Association, which has been organized for the past year, has elected the following named directors: Jack P. Richardson, Col. O. A. Haynes, H. R. Kilpatrick, J. L. Hornsby, L. F. Walker, Wm. C. Anderson, S. M. Hollister, and H. A. Chapin. Louis Kedus, Wm. E. Huppert, T. McLaughlin, H. C. Gillie, Louis Schrempp, and H. C. Thompson are also members.

Information was received at the pool rooms that the women's society of the Women's Society of Pennsylvania and the same society of the Daughters of the American Revolution are in a separation of the two societies and an open outbreak between the two organizations.

TO THE CHIEF OF INFORMATION.

John T. Moore, chief of information, has directed that the following named directors: Jack P. Richardson, Col. O. A. Haynes, H. R. Kilpatrick, J. L. Hornsby, L. F. Walker, Wm. C. Anderson, S. M. # Second Great Auction! Saturday, June 22, P.M. 10,000 FRONT FEET ABSOLUTELY AT YOUR OWN PRICE. EVERY LOT MUST BE SOLD.

HIGHLANDS OF ROSE HILL, Fronting on Easton, Wells, Ridge, Minerva, Hamilton, Arlington, Florence, Semple, Clara, Goodfellow and Hodiamont Avenues,

On the FRANKLIN AV. CABLE and the ST. LOUIS CABLE & WESTERN R.R.

Sale on the Promises, to Commence on the Corner of Goodfellow and Easton Aves. and Continue Until Sold. Sign Boards now on all Lots to be sold.

EXTRAORDINARY TERMS.

One-fourth cash; balance in one, two and three years. $25 cash on bidding off each lot. TAXES for 1890 to be paid by purchaser. TITLE absolutely perfect or no sale, and earnest money returned, with cost of examination.

REASON WHY THIS PROPERTY WILL DOUBLE IN VALUE.

The sale of this immense tract of land will be followed by the erection of hundreds of homes, and every house erected will enhance the value of adjacent lots.

This property lies just north of that beautiful section known as Cabanne Place and Chamberlain Park, and is the highest point in St. Louis, being 117 feet higher than the business portion of the city. The sale of such an immense tract in one day will be bound to have a deprecatory effect on the prices at the sale, but it has been DETERMINED TO REALIZE ON THE PROPERTY REGARDLESS OF PRICES, every lot must be sold, as we did on June 1 at our first great sale.

RESTRICTION CLAUSE.

A deed will be given to protect the property sold against Slaughter Houses, Public Stock Yards, Milk Dairies, Glue, Soap, Candle and White Lead Factories, or the erection of any establishment which may be a nuisance, adjacent thereto.

New York—June 15, 11 a.m.—The opening of the stock market this morning was without the animation and excitement of yesterday, and excepting New England, Atchison, St. Paul, Lead Trust, and the like, the market was dead.

The tone of the market, however, was strong, and first prices generally showed advance.

Prices were up from 1 to 2 per cent., while advantage was further increased during the early part of the day, and the market was up.

Advantage was still further increased, and the early improvement was lost. Heading and Union Banks were up 1 1/2 per cent., and the market declined to 1 1/2 at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and steady, generally at a small fraction below the opening.

Noon—Money is east at 2 per cent. Bar silver 92.

Short Trusts were up 1 1/2 per cent., and after a slight dip, displayed both activity and decided strength, moving up 1 1/2 per cent to 11 1/2 on a small basis.

St. Paul, Atchison, New England and Lead Trust still lead, but the remainder were dull and stagnant.

The tendency, if anything, was in the direction of the lower figures. There was no rise in lead, steady, generally at a small fraction below the opening.

THE CHIPPEWA INDIANS.

Wholesome Effect of the Appearance of the Troops at Har.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 18.—The troops sent to the scene of the reported Indian outbreak at Mille Lacs, broke camp at Mora and returned to Fort Snelling last night. The latest courier from the reserve brought news to Mora as soon as the Indians had been driven away. They were not inclined to make further trouble.

The appearance of the troops had a wholesome effect in intimidating them, and for this reason the expedition was not altogether useless.

The scattered settlers have regained courage and are ready to return to their homes. The arrest of Wadens, the young buck who shot Magnusson, will be left to the United States Marshals and their deputies and Interior Departments, whether the land belongs to the Government or to the Indians.

Wadens, the Indian boy, is now in custody. His attorney Baxter is in communication with the Washington authorities, and when a decision is reached in Wadens' case it will be determined as to whether the policy of the Government regarding the rights of the Indians.
